

Confidence The 7 Keys To Your Happiness

In Confidence Culture, Shani Orgad and Rosalind Gill argue that imperatives directed at women to “love your body” and “believe in yourself” imply that psychological blocks rather than entrenched social injustices hold women back. Interrogating the prominence of confidence in contemporary discourse about body image, workplace, relationships, motherhood, and international development, Orgad and Gill draw on Foucault’s notion of technologies of self to demonstrate how “confidence culture” demands of women near-constant introspection and vigilance in the service of self-improvement. They argue that while confidence messaging may feel good, it does not address structural and systemic oppression. Rather, confidence culture suggests that women—along with people of color, the disabled, and other marginalized groups—are responsible for their own conditions. Rejecting confidence culture’s remaking of feminism along individualistic and neoliberal lines, Orgad and Gill explore alternative articulations of feminism that go beyond the confidence imperative.

First I'd like to thank you for investing in The 7 Key Elements Every Successful Marketer Follows. You've placed your trust in John and myself and we're both determined to give you the information you need to make a success of your online business. A word of caution if I may though. There is a saying you may have heard of... 'Knowledge equals Power' Well, the first thing I want to do is 'correct' that saying... I know from personal experience that it's just not true. What John teaches through my detailed layout of the conversations we've had most certainly are the 7 keys that every successful marketer follows... BUT Simply knowing them will not do you any good what so ever. I've spent most of my career offline in some sort of sales environment, and one thing I always did when I was selling or managing was to find the best people and learn from them. Others did the same and yet never had the success I had. I did discover why, and I'd like to share that with you now, before you even get started reading what John has passed on to me to detail out for you. The difference between myself and others who did not achieve the success I have, was the application of the skills and knowledge we all had access to. So the correct statement should read... 'The Applied Use of Knowledge equals Power' A great example would be John's great product Affiliate Promo Formula, reading it and knowing it isn't going to bring you any success, applying what he teaches will. Only when you apply the 7 keys John highlighted to me, will you benefit from the power they offer. I know this to be true from my personal story, I'll give you some examples later on after we've gone through what John wants me to pass on.
