This book contains: A new theory for the Big Bang that created the universe Validation of the Genesis account of creation The real reason why God created Man The real reason for the construction of the Great Pyramid at Giza The real reason why God sent the Israelites to Egypt The real reason why God sent Jesus to preach Christianity The author has applied his powers of analysis and imagination to all the above and linked them in a cause-and-effect relationship that points to an undreamt-of destiny for mankind.

A rowdy American tourist from Brooklyn visits a London subway and is concerned about not making friends on his trip. When a tiny mouse on the platform struggles to safety, everyone rallies together in support of their fuzzy friend.

While a mighty lion sleeps, a small mouse runs up its back and gets tangled in its mane. The lion is angry. No one should disturb the king of the beasts! The lion says that it will eat the mouse. But the mouse pleads for its life. The mouse claims that one day it may be able to save the life of the lion. The lion laughs at that. How could a tiny mouse save a mighty lion? But the lion decides to free the mouse anyway. Later, the lion is caught in a hunter's net. The lion cannot escape. Can the mouse save the lion from the hunter's trap? 24pp.

Voices from the Hidden Epidemic of Chronic Fatigue Syndrome

Beebo the mouse was born into a simple existence as a barn mouse, living on a farm with his brothers and sisters. But Beebo is no ordinary barn mouse, and his difference from other mice leads him into the world of humans, and into the life of Megan, the little girl who lives on the local farm. Together, Beebo and Megan are thrust into a great adventure, with tremendous consequences! Will they be able to save the world, for people and animals? Develop a better understanding of what CFS/CFIDS sufferers are going through! In the 1980s, a strange emerging epidemic baffled doctors in Incline Village, Nevada. Dismissed by the media as "The Yuppie Flu," Chronic Fatigue Immune Dysfunction Syndrome (CFIDS) turned out to be neither a faddish disease of the wealthy nor a passing trend, but rather a growing worldwide epidemic of devastating proportions. In the voices of a South African journalist, a former marathon runner, a teenage girl, a public health activist living on the edge of race and gender, a cancer patient neglected by doctors because of disdain for her chronic illness, and a theologian relearning the art of spiritual empathy, the people who share their stories in Stricken: Voices from the Hidden Epidemic of Chronic Fatigue Syndrome defy cultural stereotypes and explore the complex social and political dynamics of this hidden epidemic. Through their distinct points of view, we feel the grief and hope of those stricken with CFIDS and learn of the complex nature of this misunderstood disorder. These are compelling stories about a quiet and baffling epidemic. The first American anthology to contain stories from a diverse range of people with CFIDS, Stricken offers an intimate look at the political and social issues surrounding CFIDS, as told by those who are living through this ordeal. Stricken addresses several issues, such as: why some doctors still do not believe CFIDS is real how the disease is mocked in the media myths about this illness the personal fight for medical or public recognition the skepticism and hope that is felt by the ever-growing number of CFIDS sufferers Stricken confronts fascinating CFIDS issues such as the

See how a small kindness can be repaid a thousand times over. In this retelling of an ancient Middle Eastern folk tale, Karim Alrawi follows up his best-selling The Girl Who Lost Her Smile with another classic fable.

Mary mouse is a skilled thief of useful human items. At the Cherry Street Children's Home, the entire mouse community admires her . . .until a mission goes wrong and an exterminator is called. Suddenly Mary is in grave danger of being exiled. Ten-year-old Caro McKay also resides at Cherry Street. Helpful, likable, and smart, she is a model orphan . . .until her curiosity gets her into trouble. When mouse and orphan meet, they cannot fully communicate with each other, yet they feel an understanding. They will each discover that this unusual friendship is absolutely vital as they try to hold on to the lives they know. Set in 1949 and taking inspiration from E. B. White's Stuart Little, this heartwarming and exciting novel reads like a classic.

Three Elephants and a Field Mouse Named Harry" is the second of a series of bed time stories. Using his limited imagination, Mark Frazier has created the first of a series of bed time stories that he told to his 3 year old son. "Three Elephants and a Field Mouse Named Harry" is a story about three hilarious baseball playing elephants in need of rescue. Read the book to find out how the Harry, the Field Mouse, saves the elephants. The hilarious illustrations of Mark's talented brother, Chris, are guaranteed to make you laugh out loud. With the outstanding artistic talent of his brother, Mark and Chris have created their second children's book. Much of the success of this book goes to Chris. He has spent a great amount of time in perfecting the illustrations for the story. Mark and Chris hope you enjoy reading this book as much as

A charming tale of how the Douglas-Fir tree saved the Mouse people, based on a Native American story. Third graders may ask, "Is that true?" and they never forget how to identify a Douglas-Fir cone. It is a nature book for children ages 3 – 10. The biggest failure in life for any parent, or anyone raising a child is, if the Child grows up to be 'Financially Successful but MORALLY BANKRUPT!!' As a Spinster and an Aunt who has raised nephews and nieces, as well as help babysit my friends children, I know how important it is to mould the child's mind to be noble and beautiful. Food and beverages can only nourish the body, while wisdom and knowledge nourishes the mind. The best way for a child to learn is through Stories, Jokes and Games, and they have to be carefully selected and chosen for the child. After buying countless books, I could not find anything truly worthwhile. Most books were made with only profit in mind, and I'm sure most were not written by the Author, but outsourced. Are you looking for a kid's or children's book that has no GIMMICKS? A book that is about QUALITY, not Quantity? A book that is highly entertaining, help you bond with your child, great for early readers, and is jam-packed with bedtime and all-day stories? Top it off with clean jokes, games to increase IQ? This children's storybook has it All! After a lot of soul searching, I have come up with my first book. It was written with the intention to help a child grow up to be a good person, a wonderful human being. Spanky the Mouse, is the hero of this book, and teaches Peter's son, Tom, the foundations of morality. The handful of stories are designed with 'Moral Science' in mind, that will help mould the child and establish the principles of being a good person. To top it off, there are Jokes and Games in the form of Riddles and a Quiz, to help stimulate the child *intellectually while kindling the passion for learning. The amount of stories and games is adequate to hold the child's interest. Too much bores them, and too little deprives them of joy. I have tested it on my nephews, nieces, and my friends children, and saw them develop in an entire new and charming way. They have developed the qualities of kindness, compassion, sharing and understanding, while becoming smart and intelligent! Read it to them when they can't read yet. When they can, they will want to read it by themselves. Every reading further enhances their perception of morality. I hope and wish your child succeeds in life, financially and morally! Good Luck and best wishes from Aunty Mona Your child will be entertained for hours, and be morally equipped for a Lifetime! Tilling, a mouse who is in love with music, stories, and a princess named Pea. It is also the story of a rat called Roscuro, who lives in the darkness and covets a world filled with light. And it is the story of Miggery Sow, a slow-witted serving girl who harbors a simple, impossible wish. These three characters are about to embark on a journey that will lead them down into a horrible dungeon, up into a glittering castle, and, ultimately, into each other's lives. What happens then? As Kate DiCamillo would say: Reader, it is your destiny to find out. With black-and-white illustrations and a refreshed cover by Timothy Basil Ering.

A lonely little mouse has to be resourceful to bring his family back together. In a series of delightfully imaginary achievements, "nobody's mouse" transforms himself into the beloved hero of his mother, father, sister, and brand-new baby brother. In their very first collaboration, Robert Kraus and Jose Aruego give charm and validity to one of childhood's more difficult experiences. Tender and catchy, Robert Kraus's rhyming text, combined with Jose Aruego's large, vibrantly clever illustrations, makes for a storytime classic.

Some extraordinary rats come to the aid of a mouse family in this Newbery Medal Award-winning classic by notable children's author Robert C.

O'Brien. Mrs. Frisby, a widowed mouse with four small children, is faced with a terrible problem. She must move her family to their summer quarters immediately, or face almost certain death. But her youngest son, Timothy, lies ill with pneumonia and must not be moved. Fortunately, she encounters the rats of NIMH, an extraordinary breed of highly intelligent creatures, who come up with a brilliant solution to her dilemma. And Mrs. Frisby in turn renders them a great service.

A curious young mouse boldly ventures into the meadow for the first time. There he is given a crash course on life—from creatures both friendly and not so friendly. Science and story blend seamlessly in this entertaining coming of age tale.

In the great tradition of magical literature we all love, like Peter Pan, Alice in Wonderland and Harry Potter, you are sure to fall in love with Mrs. Chubbly and her tribe! In a tr start to a series of enchanting adventures, the mystical mouse, Mrs. Chubbly, goes on a Nanny interview in a nest in Chelsea, England, only to find the evil Chesterfield Cat kills and eats Mr. and Mrs. Twingle as soon as she arrives! The paw of destiny has her stay on to watch over the orphans left behind. In time she must become a Nanny for Chesterfield Cat, Wendy Lovely a Motherless human child, and all of the mice in the Chelsea Nest. In this world, every young creature is forced, by the violent circumstances of life to grow up way too soon, and so with the help of Mrs. Chubbly and The Great Creator, they awaken. Like all brilliant mature youth, the youngest of every species lead their elders to open their minds to the oneness of all beings and so the mice, cats, birds and children begin to work together!. Our tribe of rebellious hooligans soon find out through a strange prophecy that it is their destiny to grow up, travel through space and time, and save the world for every creature. They enlist the help of Mrs. Chubbly, Wendy Lovely, Uncle Mak, Clatter the Woodpecker, Chesterfield Cat and a cast of other brilliant creatures to train them on their 10 year long journey of mastery, magic and knowledge. Mice, humans and all creatures begin the struggle to create a society of love and peace from a world gone mad with greed and spiritual separation. Will they fulfill the prophecy of Crystal Seer. Will all be lost? If you believe that the good-hearted will prevail, come with us now to stop the destruction, and save our world. Ready? Our adventure begins... If you are looking for heroic characters, and a story of epic magnitude that includes a magical fantasy adventure full of cats that talk to their owners and mice that take care of the cats, and a big dose of courage, birth, death, spiritual awakening & ultimately true love, you have found it in The Secret Tales of Mrs. Chubbly. Before our first tale in the series comes to its heartbreaking end, our characters vow to travel on through the next 10 years of lessons in mastering The Great Healing Arts and learn to engineer the Flying Machine so they can travel through space and time into the future to discover what happened in New York in The Great War Between The Farmers and Technologists, and how can they stop it. Next they join forces with some very powerful magicians to learn how they can travel back in time to stop the destruction of all creatures of humanity. They seek out The Spring of Life and change the course of our history forever. Some readers say that Cindy LeBow weaves a world of incredible detail and warmth with the tales of Mrs Chubbly. like "Little Mouse on the Prairie" transporting one to a place and time long gone from this earth. There hasn't been a mouse this inspiring since Mickey, nor a nanny this magical since Mary Poppins. Mrs. Chubbly will touch the innermost sanctum of your heart. She will remind you of when you were young and small, relying upon a large world to protect you, with an open heart and a full imagination. It will transport you to your highest and best self, your expression of your compassion, your ongoing evolution, and the desire to become who we are destined to be. In literatures worldwide, animal fables have been analyzed for their revealingly anthropomorphic views, but until now little attention has been given to the animal tales of China. The complex, competitive relationship between rodents (vilified as thieves of grain) and the felines with whom they are perennially at war is explored in this presentation of Chinese tales about cats and mice. Master translator Wilt Idema situates them in an overview of animal tales in world literature, in the Chinese literary tradition as a whole, and within Chinese imaginative depictions of animals. The tales demonstrate the animals' symbolism and their unusually prominent—and verbal—role in the stories. These readings depict cats and mice in conflict, in marital bonds, and in litigation—most centrally in a legal case of a mouse against a cat in the underworld court of King Yama. Many of the stories adopt the perspective of the mice as animals merely trying to survive, while also recognizing that cats are natural hunters. This entertaining volume will appeal to readers interested in Chinese literature and society, comparative literature, and posthumanist consideration of human-animal relations.
