There was time when my country was the country of fairy tales, a country where every child would want to grow and play. This is the story of the author's physical and emotional journey from her war-torn homeland, Somalia. Some time after the military coup in 1969 Shirin left Mogadishu and moved to Italy to make a new life and home for herself and her family. Since then she has crossed continents and lived in several cities, facing the challenge of integrating with many different kind of society before settling in England in 2010. This book encapsulates her reflections on the Somali diaspora.

Rocked Up is a STANDALONE rockstar romance and the sexy, fun brainchild of the husband and wife writing duo, Scott Mackenzie and New York Times bestselling author Karina Halle. I’ve been watching him since I was a young girl. He didn’t notice me back then and it didn’t matter. Brad Snyder, guitarist and singer for one of the world’s greatest bands, was my entire life. My father, the CEO of Ramsey Records, takes credit for all of Brad’s success, trying to control him in the same way he’s controlled me. But I finally get an opportunity to prove myself. To be wild. To be free.

Today I'm auditioning to be the replacement bass player for Brad's band. If I get the job, I'll go on tour and work with Brad every day, in very close proximity. There's only one rule: he's not allowed to touch the boss's daughter. Remember when I said that Brad never used to notice little of me? Well, Brad's noticing me now. In a way that's going to get us both in trouble. My name is Lael Ramsey and we all know how this will turn out.

An Introduction to the Art of Inventing Stories

Un po' pellegrinaggio e un po' seduta spiritica, questo libro porta dalla Sardegna di Grazia Deledda all'America di Marquerite Yourcenar, dalla Francia di Colette all'Oriente di Alexandra David-Néel, dall'Africa alla Danimarca di Karen Blixen, all'Inghilterra di Virginia Woolf. Un lunghissimo viaggio in case-museo che, attraverso mobili e suppellettili, stanze e giardini raccontano la storia sentimentale delle più significative scrittrici del Novecento. Da Parigi alla Provenza, dal Kenya al Maine, da Copenhagen al Tibet, Sandra Petrigiani le cerca nei loro oggetti, interroga i loro diari, la poltrona in cui si sedevano, il portafortuna da cui non si separavano, ma anche (in alcuni casi) le persone che ancora conservano un ricordo vivo di loro. Così il viaggio, concretissimo, diventa favoloso, un giro del mondo dove a ogni tappa è come se lo protagonista in persona aprissero la porta e svelassero sottovoce i segreti della vita coniugale e di passioni travolgenti. I nodi edipici e le fragilità che le hanno rese grandi scrittrici, ma anche donne tremendamente vulnerabili. E alle loro vicende s'intrecciano quelle dei loro uomini e delle loro amiche, in un caleidoscopio di presenza, da Vanessa Bell a Katherine Mansfield a Natalie Clifford Barney (l'«Amazzone») a Vita Sackville-West, che hanno contribuito a fare del Novecento un secolo leggendario. Le mele nel tinello della Yourcenar e il suo cane ancora vivo, il tempio tibetano ricreato a Digne dalla David-Néel o la stanza chiusa che fu sua nel monastero del Sikkim dove si ritirò in meditazione, la Barbaglia della Deledda con le fate e i folletti che influenzarono la sua fantasia, il gramofono della Blixen portato con sé dalla sua Africa in ricordo dell'uomo che aveva amato e perduto per sempre...Sandra Petrigiani ascolta «la voce delle cose» e la traduce nelle affascinanti storie di questo libro.

In 1999 a collection of documents were found in the archives of the Italian Institute of Human Palaeontology belonging to Luigi Cardini, one of the founders of the Institute. These documents included site notebooks, photographs, drawings and maps relating to work carried out in Albania from 1930-39 where he was sent on a governmental mission to "reinforce Italian supremacy in Albania through archaeological research". This monograph publishes extracts from these notebooks within a historical, political and archaeological context. The work he carried out is synthesised and a report is included on survey work carried out in 2000 and 2001 to attempt to relocate many of Cardini's cave sites described in his notebooks.

In My Valley, Claude Ponti leads us on a journey through an enchanted world inhabited by "Touims" (tiny, adorable, monkey-like creatures), secret tree dwellings, flying buildings, and sad giants. Clever language and beautifully detailed maps of imaginary landscapes will delight children and adults alike. Ponti himself has said, "My stories are like fairytales, always situated in the marvelous, speaking to the interior life and emotions of children. That way each child can get what they want out of the images: the characters and dreams are their own."

Another classic picture book from the Smarties Prize-winning partnership behind Tadpole's Promise "On top of a mountain there lived a fat mammoth. Down in the valley there lived a thin caveman. The caveman was hungry. Very, very hungry. He saw the mammoth and licked his lips." Fed up with eating seeds, fed up with eating weeds. . . . a mammoth can start looking pretty delicious to a hungry caveman! But a mouthwatering Mammoth Pie turns out to be more difficult to come by than the caveman could ever imagine.

Translating Children's Literature is an exploration of the many developmental and linguistic issues related to writing and translating for children, an audience that spans a period of enormous intellectual progress and affective change from birth to adolescence. Lathey looks at a broad range of children's literature, from prose fiction to poetry and picture books. Each of the seven chapters addresses a different aspect of translation for children, covering: · Narrative style and the challenge of translating the child's voice; · The translation of cultural markers for young readers; · Translation of the modern picture book; · Dialogue, dialect and street language in modern children's literature; · Read-aloud qualities, wordplay, onomatopoeia and the translation of children's poetry; · Retranslation, retelling and reworking; · The role of translation for children within the global publishing and translation industries. This is the first practical guide to address all aspects of translating children's literature, featuring extracts from commentaries and interviews with published translators of children's literature, as well as examples and case studies across a range of languages and texts. Each chapter includes a set of questions and exercises for students. Translating Children's Literature is essential reading for professional translators, researchers and students on courses in translation studies or children's literature.

Italian Folktales

Lev Golinkin nasce a Char'kov, in Ucraina, nel 1980. La Guerra Fredda e l'Unione Sovietica sono al tramonto. Era un'epoca di macchinoni neri e di sparizioni notturne, informatori del KGB appostati a ogni finestra, umiliazioni, paura e violento antisemitismo. I genitori di Lev desideravano per lui e sua sorella, Lina, una vita migliore, ma le frontiere erano ancora sigillate e il sogno dell'America lontanissimo. Poi, alla fine del 1989, si aprì uno spiraglio per la fuga - una fuga definitiva - e i Golinkin, insieme a centinaia di migliaia di ebrei sovietici, rischiarono tutto per riuscirci. Ma dovevano fare in fretta: girava voce che a partire dal 31 dicembre l'America non avrebbe accolto più nessuno. Vivace, emozionante, venato di humour nero, Uno zaino, un orso, e otto casse di vodka è un viaggio nella follia totalitaria che snatura la vita e le coscienze di adulti e dell'infanzia, visto dalla prospettiva personale di un bambino vulnerabile ma ostinato, costretto a vivere in un Paese che non lo vuole. Ma è anche la storia dell'uomo Golinkin diventato americano, che torna in cerca delle tante persone che avevano reso possibile la sua fuga, per ritrovare il senso di quella solidarietà umana, unica superstita di un'epoca di grandi macerie.

È la primavera del 1996 a Sarajevo e Hanna Heath, trentenne restauratrice australiana di manoscritti e libri antichi, giunge nella capitale bosniaca devastata da cinque anni di guerra civile e ancora sotto il fuoco dei cecchini. Deve restaurare la Haggadah di Sarajevo, un manoscritto ebraico prodotto in Spagna in età medievale e ricco di inusuali e variopinte miniature; un'opera preziosa e fondamentale nella storia dell'ebraismo, che fu salvata dal bibliotecario musulmano del Museo di Sarajevo quando, negli anni Quaranta, i nazisti e i famigerati reparti della Mano Nera cercarono di impadronirsene. È dalla voce di Hanna che apprendiamo la magnifica storia del libro, una vicenda fatta di macchie di vino e di sangue, di splendidi fermagli smarriti, di farfalle di montagna, di storie d'amore e di vigliaccheria, di secoli di splendore e di decadenza, di gloriose città, la Siviglia del 1480, la Tarragona del 1492, la Venezia del 1609, la Vienna del 1894, e di uomini giusti.

The animals of the forest have assembled to discuss what is the most important thing: to have a trunk like a porcupine, or a long neck like a giraffe? Naturally, every animal is convinced that its particular trait is the most important one and that everyone should have it. But when the double pages open to show all the animals with the quills of a porcupine, the long neck of a giraffe, or the trunk or the elephant, everyone must agree that the true importance lies precisely in their collective 'diversity'. It is that which makes them all unique and essential to life of the forest. The Most Important Thing received a UNESCO honorable mention for peace and collaboration. An important message of diversity and inclusion delivered in the form of a charming modern fable.

Every so often a love story captures our hearts and becomes more than just a story - it becomes an experience to treasure and to share. The Notebook is such a book. It is a celebration of a passion both ageless and timeless, a tale of laughter and tears, and makes us believe in true love all over again. At thirty-one, Noah Calhoun is rebuilding his life on the coast after the horrors of World War II, but he is haunted by images of the girl he lost more than a decade earlier. Allie Nelson is about to marry into wealth and security, but she cannot stop thinking about the boy who stole her heart years ago. And so begins an extraordinary tale of a love so strong it turns tragedy into strength and endures everything... 2014 marks the 10th anniversary of the film adaptation of The Notebook starring Ryan Gosling and Rachel McAdams. This new edition includes gorgeous colour photographs from the film, author Q & A, discussion questions and an exclusive chapter from The Longest Ride, the new Nicholas Sparks novel.

A collection of essays from the visionary storyteller Gianni Rodari about fairy tales and folk tales and their great advantages in teaching creative storytelling. "Rodari grasped children's need to play with life's rules by using the grammar of their own imaginations. They must be encouraged to question, challenge, destroy, mock, eliminate, generate, and reproduce their own language and meanings through stories that will enable them to narrate their own lives." --Jack Zipes "I hope this small book," writes renowned children's author Gianni Rodari, "can be useful for all those people who believe it is necessary for the imagination to have a place in education; for all those who trust in the creativity of children; and for all those who know the liberating value of the word." Full of ideas, glosses on fairytales, stories, and wide-ranging activities, including the fantastic binomial, this book changed how creative arts were taught in Italian schools. Translated into English by acclaimed children's historian Jack Zipes and illustrated for the first time ever by Matthew Forsythe, this edition of The Grammar of Fantasy is one to live with and return to for its humor, intelligence, and truly deep understanding of children. A groundbreaking pedagogical work that is also a handbook for writers of all ages and kinds, The Grammar of Fantasy gives each of us a playful, practical path to finding our own voice through the power of storytelling. Gianni Rodari (1920-1980) grew up in Northern Italy and wrote hundreds of stories, poems, and songs for children. In 1960, he collaborated with the Education Cooperation Movement to develop exercises to encourage children's creative and critical thinking abilities. Jack Zipes is a renowned children's historian and folklorist who has written, translated, and edited dozens of books on fairytales. He is a professor at the University of Minnesota. Matthew Forsythe lives in Montreal where he draws and paints for picture books, comics, and animations.

The Kamishibai man used to ride his bicycle into town where he would tell stories to the children and sell them candy, but gradually, fewer and fewer children came running at the sound of his clappers. They were all watching their new televisions instead. Finally, only one boy remained, and he had no money for candy. Years later, the Kamishibai man and his wife made another batch of candy, and he pedaled into town to tell one more story—his own. When he comes out of the reverie of his memories, he looks around to see he is surrounded by familiar faces—the children he used to entertain have returned, all grown up and more eager than ever to listen to his delightful tales. Using two very different yet remarkable styles of art, Allen Say tells a tale within a tale, transporting readers seamlessly to the Japan of his memories.

In this harrowing thriller from bestselling author Christopher Pike, a teen girl must solve the mystery of her own murder before the killer strikes again. After a night spent out with friends, Shari Cooper wakes up in her bed not sure how she got home. And things only get stranger when her family acts like she 's not even there. Nothing Shari says gets a response and nothing she does can get someone to even glance at her. Then the hospital calls. Shari 's mom starts to cry. The blood drains from her dad 's face. And still no one will tell her what 's wrong. But when they arrive at the hospital, Shari follows her family to the morgue and sees herself lying there on a cold slab. She 's dead. The police rule her death a suicide, but Shari knows she was murdered—and if the cops won 't find her killer, she will. To investigate, Shari spies on her friends and even enters their dreams. There, she comes face to face with a nightmare from beyond the grave...the Shadow. The Shadow is even more horrible than death itself, but Shari must face it to uncover the truth about her death and prevent her murderer from killing again.
